

A Rare Smoothness of Action

THE thing you will like best and remember longest about a Hot Spot Chalmers is its rare smoothness of action. You will note an absence of "effort" about its motive power. You will sense almost no vibration, no jars, no engine noises. That is because Hot Spot "cracks up" the gas into an extremely fine vapor and Ram's-horn hurries it to the cylinders so that gas condenses but little en route. There are no sharp corners or abrupt bends in Ram's-horn to impede its progress. If the Chalmers engine had windows you would be amazed at the miracles performed with gas. But when you drive a Hot Spot Chalmers you will note the results obtained, and you, too, will say Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

IRISH PRESIDENT ONCE SENTENCED

Was Tried by Court-Martial,
Following Participation in Insurrection.

Edmond De Valera, president of the Irish republic, who speaks in Memphis Dec. 2, was once tried by court-martial and sentenced to be shot. His trial resulted from the prominent part he played in the Irish insurrection of Easter week, 1916.

De Valera had been assigned the "Ringend-Mount St." area, Dublin, to hold with his battalion. There, with little more than 100 men, he withstood the entire force of the two divisions of the English army, which marched with artillery on the city of Dublin, from Kingstown. His main position was still unshaken when he received the order from his commander-in-chief to surrender.

Owing to the fading tide of public indignation, which had arisen in America, against his execution, and because of the several official protests of American senators and congressmen, who were particularly interested in his case, on account of his American birth, the sentence was commuted to penal servitude for life.

He was the only one of that heroic band of Dublin commandants to escape execution and was included in the first batch of political prisoners that were sent to the convict prison at Dartmoor. His escape from prison and consequent mysterious appearance in New York city, where he established his headquarters, caused world-wide comment.

While in Memphis De Valera will be entertained by prominent citizens interested in the welfare of Ireland.

Kreiser May Play Despite Kicks, But To Small House

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 20.—Should Fritz Kreiser, Austrian violinist, insist on holding a performance here tonight he may have only a small audience. This is indicated in resolutions adopted by eight civic and social clubs and sent to Kreiser, asking that he not appear. Their action is based on a protest of the local post, American Legion, which adopted a resolution to the effect that appearance of German and Austrian performers offered a means of creating sympathy for enemy countries.

Kreiser, according to legion members, is a former Austrian army officer. A representative of the violinist was here today arranging for the performance. It was said Kreiser believes that he can not accept the view of the local organizations because the position taken must apply in every other city where he is scheduled to play.

HOLD TEACHERS' EXAMS ON JANUARY 2-3

A uniform state teachers' examination will be held in every county in Tennessee Jan. 2 and 3, 1920, and will include all of high school groups as well as the elementary course. Teachers desiring to qualify for positions in the public schools in this state should take advantage of this opportunity, according to local education board officials.

In Shelby county the examination for white applicants will be held at the West Tennessee State Normal school and the examination for negro applicants at Memphis Street school. All Shelby county teachers or applicants for positions not holding a first grade certificate are urged to take this examination.

Glitters Is Not Essentially
What It Seems

Buy Jewelry for Christmas

THEN to give jewelry—you are sure of quality, genuineness and permanence, for in jewelry stores alone are such points carefully weighed in the buying.

Sentiment and Romance Has Been for Ages Linked and Interlinked
With the Word JEWELRY

Buy While Stocks Are Complete

You've heard the wording "BUY EARLY." In previous years it may have had a shallow meaning, but this year and under unusual conditions it really is a WARNING—for while displays in jewelry stores today express the holiday season in all its glory, there is this to consider: EACH DAY WITNESSES DIMINISHING STOCKS. EACH DAY SEES SOME ARTICLE SOLD THAT CANNOT BE REPLACED. EACH DAY SEES A LESSENING CHANCE FOR REPLACEMENT ORDERS.

Therefore, buy jewelry early, thus insuring the choice gift articles.

JEWELERS WILL LAY
ARTICLES ASIDE

Your jeweler will allow you to select the articles of your choice and you may arrange with him for the safe keeping until such a time as you select to make a final payment.

Buy Jewelry This Christmas and Buy It Early
